

Code of Conduct for Students

For the All England Taekwon-Do Association

Introduction

This code of conduct is the guideline on common standards of conduct & behaviour to be adhered to by all Parents, Carers and Spectators whilst observing classes / events hosted by The All England Taekwon-Do Association (AETA).

As a student of Taekwon-Do, at The All England Taekwondo-Do Association, I pledge to uphold the following code of conduct:

1. Respect: I will show respect to my instructors, fellow students, and all individuals, both inside and outside the dojang (training hall). I will treat everyone with courtesy and consideration.
2. Discipline: I will maintain discipline in my practice and behaviour. I understand that self-control and focus are essential to my progress in Taekwon-Do.
3. Honesty: I will be truthful in my words and actions. I will not engage in cheating, dishonesty, or any behaviour that brings discredit to Taekwon-Do.
4. Integrity: I will uphold the tenets of Taekwon-Do, which include integrity, perseverance, and an indomitable spirit. I will strive to be a person of strong moral character.
5. Safety: I will prioritize the safety of myself and others during training. I will follow safety guidelines and take precautions to prevent injuries.
6. Continuous Learning: I will approach each training session with an open mind and a willingness to learn. I understand that learning is a lifelong journey.
7. Humility: I will remain humble in my achievements and never boast or belittle others. I recognize that there is always room for improvement.
8. Community: I will actively contribute to the Taekwon-Do community. I will support my fellow students and participate in events and activities that promote Taekwon-Do.
9. Good Sportsmanship: I will display good sportsmanship in both victory and defeat. I will show respect to opponents and officials in competitions.
10. Self-Improvement: I will strive for personal growth and self-improvement through my practice of Taekwon-Do. I will set and work towards meaningful goals.

By adhering to this code of conduct, I commit to being a responsible and honourable student of Taekwon-Do, embodying its principles both in and outside the dojang.
